

SEEKING PLACES FOR CONSTITUENTS

Members of Congress Always Hunting for Jobs.

"Just up to see if I can't have my friend Jim Jones appointed fourth-class postmaster at Possum Corner."

A statesman visitor at the White House, one of the big men of the Senate has been asked the explanation of his call at the White House. The reference to Jones and Possum Corner is the response.

At the Postoffice Department and the Interior Department frequently and at all the other departments at less regular intervals may be seen the Senators and Representatives in Congress warmly urging the claims of some humble constituent for appointment to some humble office.

Large Expense of Time.

The amount of time taken up in this way would be difficult to compute. The Congressmen succumb to what they regard inevitable necessity when they submit to these claims upon their time and energy. They feel they must "make themselves solid with the boys" in order to insure their own return, at the end of their terms, to the big building on Capitol Hill.

The other day a Senator from a prominent State called at the White House and conferred with the President. When he came out the White House correspondents, a goodly array, immediately surrounded him. News had not been very active that day, and there was an anxious expectation the Senator would have something to say.

Was it Important?

"Was your business with the President important?" one of the newspaper men asked.

"Well, not especially so," was the answer. "I wanted to try and get a young man from my State out of the navy."

Then he moved on his way. Such incidents are of too frequent occurrence to make them notable or even conspicuous. In every Washington department every where in the city where patronage is dispensed or individual favors granted, there are always members of Congress in waiting to prefer their pleas.

ATTORNEY GENERAL IS NOT TO RETIRE SOON

At the White House this morning it was authoritatively denied that Attorney General Moody has any present purpose of retiring from the Cabinet, as was announced in a Boston dispatch published in some of the morning papers.

The rumor of Mr. Moody's retirement was based on the issue of a card by the law firm which he established last summer—Moody, Burdett, Wardell & Snow. The firm has established offices and begun business with the new year.

Caught Cold While Hunting a Burglar.

Mr. Wm. Thos. Lamorgan, provincial constable at Chapeau, Ontario, says: "I caught a severe cold while hunting a burglar in the forest swamp last fall. Hearing of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, I tried it, and after using two small bottles, I was completely cured." This remedy is intended especially for coughs and colds. It will loosen and relieve a severe cold in less time than by any other treatment and is a favorite wherever its superior excellence has become known. For sale by all druggists.

CHANCE FOR BURIAL LIKE ENGLISH KINGS

Chicago Cemetery Association to Expend $150,000 for Catacombs and Crypts.

CHICAGO, Ill., Jan. 2.—As England's kings and poets lie buried so may the body of any Chicagoan for whom the price is paid. In Montrose Cemetery is to be constructed a great $150,000 mausoleum, with catacombs and crypts that are to be offered on the market for $1,000 each.

The whole plan is to be patterned after that of Westminster Abbey. More modern it may be than the burial place founded by Edward the Confessor and rebuilt in the thirteenth century by Henry III and Edward I, but in the main points the ideas of England's older rulers will be adhered to by the Chicago builders.

The project was announced by A. Kircher, president of the Montrose Cemetery Association, who expects incidentally that the mausoleum is to be constructed at a loss, even if all the crypts find ready markets.

The project contemplates a memorial temple combining a chapel and permanent burial vault.

DEATH OF EXAMINER STEPHEN W. MORRIS

Stephen W. Morris, a special examiner in the Pension Bureau for the last fifteen years, who for the past two months has been ill, died early yesterday morning at his residence, 1615 First Street northeast. The body was last night conveyed to Ohio.

Mr. Morris hardly missed a day in all of his long service until when he resigned on account of ill health. Mr. Morris was born in 1831, and took a course in law at Ann Arbor University. He practiced his profession for several years prior to his removal to Washington.

He is survived by a widow, two daughters, and a son, the latter being a medical officer in the army.

NEW GRAND JURY SITS IN ALEXANDRIA COUNTY

A grand jury is in session today in Alexandria county, and will spend several days investigating a number of cases to be brought forward by Commonwealth's Attorney Crandall Mackey. The members of the jury were sworn in this morning.

It is expected that a number of indictments will be returned in liquor and other felony cases.

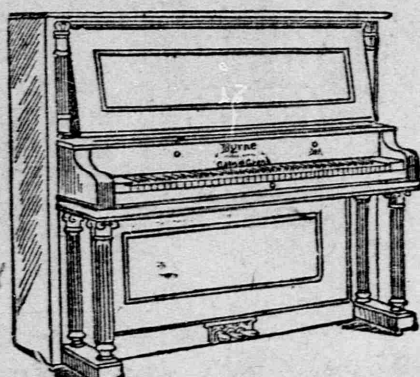

ERNEST SNOOK'S DEATH ACIDENTAL, SAYS JURY

Coroner Nevitt held an inquest today into the death of Ernest L. Snook, by a fall from his bicycle while racing with an engine to a fire in the rectory of Georgetown University, Saturday night. The jury returned a verdict of accidental death.

Doing Things—and=Resolutions

The new year is a time of good resolutions generally. Resolutions are good only when followed by deeds—acts. We resolved 11 years ago, when we opened our Washington store with 20 employes (now considerably more than a thousand) and adopted our store motto:

"ALWAYS THE BEST OF EVERYTHING FOR THE LEAST MONEY."

Since then we've been "making good"—on this motto. Our annual resolution is to make the motto mean more each year. And we have done it. The store proves it. And with the great number of bargain opportunities (noted below and advertised Sunday for Tuesday) we feel we are starting the new year aright. What do you think? Read and then judge. You'll surely be at the store tomorrow:
